

Y. Goddess 162

Chapter 162 The Morning Baked Bread

Hana accepted the kiss and small lick that I gave her neck.

A red kiss and lick mark from my lips on Hana's neck made her look like a woman who had just received a reply from her secret love.

The smile on her face, which was decorated with a happy and flowery feeling, made Hana unconsciously giggle.

Her little murmur that said that she had united with me had filled her entire mind.

The happy smile that looked strange could not be separated from her small chuckle.

"Muehehe... Lily..."

"Your lips feel soft on my neck."

While fixing the robe of the Temple of the Goddess Aurora attached to her, Hana tried to return to acting normal after my kiss made her feel happy.

"Ahem! That was a gentle kiss that was fair for fellow humans to get," said Hana while fixing the collar of her robe to cover the kiss and lick marks that left small red marks on her neck.

With her face beaming after receiving a smile that returned her love, Hana now looked like a normal girl who was in a stable mental state.

Sia who was observing Hana just swung her dragon tail that was covered with hard dragon scales. In the small bump of Sia's dragon tail, she seemed speechless after seeing Hana's behavior that she didn't understand.

In contrast to Sia who was trying to understand the situation that was happening, I was cleaning my lips from my saliva that seemed to be flowing like river water.

The kisses and licks left on my lips had left a trace of saliva that was a bit strange for others to see.

I looked like a perverted girl who liked to play with other women's feelings and had to be fair when I gave a sign of love.

[Isn't Lily-chan like that?]

[That is the responsibility that Lily-chan must have as a Saintess who use the blessing of the Yurification System!]

[A big responsibility where Lily-chan must be fair and make the woman who has formed a Ritual Linked contract happy!]

My busy morning now gets a greeting from my Goddess that makes me feel a little annoyed after hearing it.

The annoyance was triggered after I gave a marks of love to Hana and had to experience an embarrassing situation after giving a marks of love to Ciel.

Making a fox girl who looked happy in receiving my marks of love, already made me feel annoyed at the attitude of my Goddess who enjoyed every incident that happened to me this morning.

[Please don't be annoyed with me, Lily-chan.]

[Isn't that also one of Lily-chan's faults for almost making Hana, Ciel, and Sia get dumped without getting a marks of love like what happened to Princess Anastasia and your twin step-sisters?]

"Uuuuhh..." what my Goddess said was like a hard slap to my cheek.

That statement was not wrong because I looked like an unfair woman after giving Princess Anastasia, Alice, and Alyssa a marks of love.

"Lily, are you hungry and want to have breakfast with me?" asked Hana who was now approaching me.

My little murmur seemed to have been accidentally heard by Hana and made her rush to pull one of my arms.

"Let's eat together like a big family," with a smile filled with joy after getting a marks of love from me, Hana immediately pulled my arm to walk with her towards one of the gazebo tables containing a food basket covered by a knitted cloth with the symbol of the Aurora Goddess Temple on it.

The knitted cloth looked like it was emitting hot steam as if indicating that there was warm food inside.

"Lily, please sit next to me."

"Oh! And Sia... please use one of the gazebo chairs to put Ciel's body who seemed to be about to wake up from her little faint."

Hana's sudden change in behavior made Sia chuckle and follow Hana's words by placing Ciel's body on one of the gazebo chairs filled with snow.

Sia moved her dragon tail to clear the gazebo chair for herself and placed the unconscious Ciel.

"Ciel, it seems like you owe me a lot today," Sia muttered softly as she sat down and laid Ciel right next to her body.

I, who had been sitting next to Hana, suddenly felt a touch that moved my hand to pull the thin cloth covering the food basket in front of me.

Sraakkk...

When my hand reached for one of the thin cloths and pulled it, my nose suddenly felt a warm aroma of bread that smelled very delicious.

The aroma of evenly baked bread crust without burning and the coolness of the winter air in the morning made me feel an unbearable hunger.

Sniff...

Sniff...

My sensitive nose as a fox girl couldn't resist the sweet and delicious aroma of the food that Hana had prepared.

"Doesn't my homemade baked bread give off a delicious aroma that arouses curiosity about how it tastes?" said Hana who seemed to be teasing me by pulling my arm to touch one of the baked bread in the food basket.

The aroma of the bread that Hana had baked made me look like a fox girl who was hungry in the morning until Hana's temptation continued by moving one of my arms to take one of the slices of baked bread she made.

"Lily, there's no need to hesitate to take it and eat it all."

"I have baked enough bread to be shared by the Marquess Rommel family and some of my acquaintances here."

Hana's change in attitude looked like a Saintess girl made me doubt what had happened to Hana before. This big change in attitude looked like Hana's personality which could change quickly based on the situation.

"Umm... can I eat it now?" I asked after one of my arms which was being controlled by Hana had touched one of the toasts that she had made.

"Huumm? Can't wait to taste my baked bread, Lily?" with a smile filled with arrogance and a smile, Hana teased me a little by moving one of my arms above her baked bread.

The hard texture of the baked bread and the aroma of the butter that was spread evenly made my hands feel like they were top-level baked bread that was often made by the people of the villages on the outskirts of the Aurora Kingdom.

"The crunchy texture is not too bad, Hana," I praised after my palms felt the texture of Hana's baked bread on the top.

My arm which was being controlled by Hana also held one of her baked bread that was still warm.

"Do you like this baked bread with a perfect texture?"

"Although the top feels hard as if it was evenly baked, this is baked bread that has a soft texture on the inside," said Hana while moving her body closer to hug my arm that was under her control.

Hana's movements which seemed to be attached closely to me seemed to give a small temptation about my attitude that seemed curious about the taste of Hana's baked bread.

Woossh...

When the winter wind moved across this open gazebo building, I could feel my fox ears moving up and down like a fox girl who was curious about something.

My ears moved up and down unknowingly and were in tune with the movement of my fox tail which was wriggling when it felt the texture of the baked bread that Hana had made.

Woossh...

My nine fox tails that were wriggling without me controlling them seemed to reflect my true feelings. That made it easier for Hana to tease me just by watching the movement of my fox tail and fox ears.

Woosshh...

"Uuhh... this makes my body more sensitive to the cold. I better return to my human girl form," I said while removing my fox girl form who was too honest in showing my heart to Hana.

"Ah! Lily! Don't change your form before you taste my homemade baked bread!" Hana looked panicked after my body which was a fox girl suddenly turned into a normal human girl.

Slowly, I used my transformation which removed my fox ears and nine fox tails until the cold air that blew felt normal.

When my form returned to a human girl, I immediately summoned my storage magic and took out a warm coat to cover Ciel's body which looked cold when the morning winter wind blew.

Flooopp...

Floopp...

"Gosh, Ciel."

"You'll get a fever when your body which is sensitive to the winter wind hits you like this."

Along with my words, while tidying up one of my warm coats, I immediately stood up and put on a warm coat to cover Ciel's body who was sitting on one of the gazebo chairs.

"Hmm... Munyaaa... Nee-sama..."

Swiipp...

Shwwiipp...

While I was covering Ciel's body with one of my warm coats, it seemed that Ciel had woken up from her small fainting after getting hit by Sia's dragon tail on her head.

"Haha... enjoy your short sleep in the morning, Ciel," I said in a soft tone to Ciel while covering her body with my warm coat.

Hana and Sia who saw me caring about Ciel chuckled.

"Fufu... my cute little sister looks like a grown-up girl when she cares about one of her women," said Sia while closing her eyes and nodding her head.

"Uhhh... Nee-sama... Ehehe..." Ciel muttered as if she was dreaming of something in her current condition which was fast asleep enjoying the warmth of my blanket.

The warm blanket that I often use has stored my body odor so that it makes Ciel's nose twitch along with her fox ears.

Seeing her cute reaction like this, I can't blame Hana for taking advantage of my very honest fox girl's biological condition as Ciel is showing.

"Muuuuhh... Nee-sama..."

"Nee-sama's body odor must be..." Ciel was a little delirious when my warm blanket covered her upper body. In the embrace of my warm blanket, some parts of the blanket got a sharp sniff from Ciel's nose.

Sniff...

Sniff...

"Ahh... Nee-sama..."

"Please rub deeper..."

"I-I want to feel the love given by Nee-sama's fox tail rubbing against my sensitive parts..."

Like a sudden attack, Ciel who was delirious in her sleep and had recovered from fainting had given me a mental attack.

I, who was giving my blanket to embrace her in warmth suddenly stood frozen after hearing that sentence.

My face felt stiff after hearing the moans and words from Ciel's mouth that made me feel awkward and embarrassed.

"Ahem! It feels like I'm doing something strange and perverted in Ciel's dream," I muttered softly while speeding up the movement of my hands to cover Ciel's upper body to make it warmer.

Sluuuuppp...

When Ciel's upper body was hugged by my warm blanket, now I had to face the awkward feeling where the small murmurs and moans that came out of Ciel's mouth had caused a psychological attack that made my body feel embarrassed.

Without looking at the mirror that showed my body condition, I could feel that the shame and awkwardness that had filled my body had made me like a girl who had just received a sudden love attack.

My heart was beating fast and my behavior was a little stranger.

In this rapid heartbeat, I immediately calmed myself down by sitting on the gazebo chair and eating baked bread.
