

Y. Goddess 165

Chapter 165 - Aiko Teaching for Underwear and Shame

"I-I understand, Supreme Commander. I need to wear panties as proof that I am a woman in the human ecosystem, right?!" Aiko said seriously with a fiery gaze in her eyes.

My explanation seemed to command its own authority, and it made Aiko realize that the need to wear panties was an obligation that women must carry out.

Her eyes seemed to be enlightened by something related to the absolute command I gave, it made Aiko look chatty as her voice echoed inside my head.

The echo of her overly excited voice made me think that Aiko had completely forgotten that I could still hear her screams in the Soul Tame communication.

[Everyone! Please listen to an important order given by our Supreme Commander!]

[As a woman who has a human body shape, we are required to wear panties to clarify our status as human women.]

[I don't know for sure, but I will look for one thing about these panties based on the instructions given by our Supreme Commander!]

Aiko's face was now filled with light breaths and her fists looked excited.

"Underwear, I have to learn about these underwear soon before learning anything else to blend in with human social life!" Aiko exclaimed in a tone of voice that didn't sound embarrassing, it made several girls who realized that the fire of enthusiasm emitted by Aiko came from her interest in underwear immediately blush.

"Aiko, it seems like you have to understand that underwear is a taboo that shouldn't be said so happily like that," I said to make Aiko realize that she should be embarrassed about the vulgar conversation that was discussing this underwear.

"Underwear is a woman's last form of defense before her genitals are seen by someone, it's not a word that can be said without feeling embarrassed like that," I continued by giving an additional explanation.

Aiko who heard it seemed to understand the words that had been said by me. Her head seemed to nod with a facial expression that seemed to understand every word I said.

Well, I don't care whether Aiko understands this. But I have to give her an example that panties are something that must be considered by a woman.

"I know that this is a concept of shame that is very difficult for the stealth slime herd to feel. But you have to pay attention to this well, Aiko," to give an understanding of the concept of shame by panties, I immediately stood up from the gazebo chair and moved towards Noel who was standing elegantly.

Noel's elegant movements reflected a real example of a woman who was worthy of being imitated by Aiko.

"You can see Noel who is standing elegantly and politely, you can feel that she is a respectable woman just from her attitude."

"But if Noel gets attacked like this," I suddenly pulled Noel's skirt uniform and revealed the white lace panties that Noel was wearing along with the garter belt that hooked onto her white panties.

"That would make Noel feel embarrassed and act like this," I continued after making Noel accidentally show the white lace panties she was wearing.

Noel's expression which looked like a polite and elegant Exclusive Maid was suddenly replaced with the expression of a girl who had just been sexually harassed by me.

"Uuhh..." Noel who had just received a sudden attack from me was immediately filled with her strange behavior.

Her heavy breathing and her face filled with a pink blush had shown the right embarrassment as a real example for Aiko.

That right facial expression made me like a perverted and naughty Master, until Noel's heavy breathing turned into a sensual moan that made Hana and Sia hold back their behavior who seemed unaccustomed to hearing the sound of a moan coming from a woman.

"Huh? Noel?" I immediately glanced at Noel whose embarrassment had turned into satisfaction with her facial expression starting to smile and drool.

"Please control yourself better to set an example for Aiko," I whispered softly to control Noel so that she wouldn't act strangely for Aiko to emulate.

When I whispered that sentence, I immediately glanced at Aiko who suddenly disappeared from the corner of my eyes.

In the corner of my eye suddenly saw Aiko's hair blowing in the wind and accidentally saw her crouching down observing Noel's maid skirt uniform and her white lace panties.

"Hmm... so this is the panties recommended by the Supreme Commander?" Aiko muttered softly as she was observing Noel's panties from a close distance.

Seeing her crouching down and observing Noel's panties with enthusiasm, actually made me feel an unbearable sense of shame.

Her attitude that was too free as if she didn't understand manners and politeness was very inappropriate for giving a mission or task related to social circles.

Luckily the mission I gave earlier was a spy task that wasn't too difficult for the stealth slime herd to do. By using their ability to sneak around and do things that could blend in with the surrounding environment, I could feel a little relieved that the spy operation that was being carried out would succeed.

"I have to memorize the design of these panties."

"White lace panties."

"Panties with a nearly see-through design."

"Panties with thin hairs growing around the lower part of her navel."

"This is information that can be developed to blend in with human life!"

"I learned a lot about this!"

Without waiting for my order, Aiko took the initiative to learn unnecessary things from Noel. Something that should be a choice of personality and unique traits of humans was being imitated by Aiko.

I had to be able to limit the slightly wrong information so that Aiko would not learn it further.

I wanted to teach her about shame but it seemed to have gone beyond what I had not determined.

"Aiko, please focus on her white lace panties only. Please do look at anything else related to Noel's embarrassing personality," I said in a flat tone without showing any expression of regret after using Noel's panties as an example for Aiko.

"And Noel, at least pay more attention to your hygiene. You almost made a herd of stealth slimes follow your dirty standards," I said to Noel with a slightly harsh tone of discipline because I realized Noel's dirtiness had been hidden.

"You understand what I'm talking about, right?" I continued to make sure this conversation was well-known by Noel and Aiko.

Noel who had just felt embarrassed because of my attitude of suddenly lifting her maid uniform skirt immediately nodded her head. Together with her remaining shame, Noel got an additional job to pay attention to her hygiene of a hair that grew around her sensitive area as a woman.

"Kuuhh... I-I understand..."

"But as a Black Maid who always moves behind the scenes and doesn't have free time to take care of herself, I should get a fair share of Lily-sama for my dirtiness like this," replied Noel while lowering her head filled with shame.

"At least... give me a reward that is fitting for my devotion as a Black Maid for the Marquess Rommel family."

Noel suddenly acted strangely again after I mentioned her cleanliness and that grew hair that was not in the right place.

"Isn't seeing me already a reward that makes you happy?" I replied coldly and showed my power as one of the candidates who could move the Black Maid unit with the permission of my own father.

What I said was a small temptation for Noel who rarely met me at any time. She who always worked behind the scenes as a Black Maid had little free time to take care of her own body. Her work as a Black Maid had made her not care about what happened to her own body with the main focus on carrying out the tasks given by the head of the Marquess Rommel family.

Because I had teased Noel to give a real example to Aiko, I felt a little responsible after making her realize how dirty her body was after some hair grew in places that Aiko shouldn't have seen.

Paaamm...

Paamm...

With a small pat on her head, I gave a small caress to Noel's long hair. The hair that felt soft but left dandruff that was not properly cared for gave information that she really didn't have time to take care of her body better.

Noel who was always on duty here and there without stopping was like a ghost who didn't know the feeling of tiredness to continue on duty.

If this continues, then I can predict that her disguise will be easily blown away after one small mistake because her body is too dirty to hinder her movement.

"Hmm... it seems like I need to give a reward to the Black Maid who has carried out her duties with great difficulty," I muttered a little while thinking of a small idea about a reward that I could give them.

One of the reward options that I could give was body care from the Yurification Shop by using Yurification Points that I rarely used to splurge.

Because my relationship with Mio and several other women was close enough to be able to generate Yurification Points through physical contact alone, it was enough to reward the Black Maid worthy of their performance of their duties.

By concentrating the flow of my magic that seemed to be searching for something from my storage magic chant, my eyes immediately saw the contents of the Yurification Shop which had now become more filled with goods from another world.

The intervention given by my Goddess and Goddess Aurora made the Yurification Shop experience several new items that I had not tried and used.

"Hmm... where did that stuff go?" I muttered as if looking for something from inside my storage magic.

With my eyes looking at the contents of the Yurification Shop, I at least found some items needed to take care of myself and make a woman's body shine like an angel who came down from heaven.

Maybe that's a bit excessive but with proper self-care. Then a woman will have beauty that is equal to beauty that cannot be reached by words.

[Yurification Shop: Lily-chan has exchanged 10,500,000 Yurification Points for a set of beauty lotions and a set of beauty bath, please use these otherworldly items wisely, Lily-chan!]

Baamm!!

After the transaction process was complete, I took out the otherworldly items from the Yurification Shop from inside my storage magic.

A thick transparent box containing beauty lotion and set beauty bath immediately appeared before my eyes.

"Noel, please use this beauty lotion and set beauty bath to take care of yourself and when taking a bath."

"Oh! Make sure to divide it evenly among all the Black Maids, okay!"

With the strange items coming out of my storage magic, it seems like I've caught the attention of some of the girls nearby.

Hana and Sia, who had been silent until now, slowly walked towards me to see what going on.
