

Y. Goddess 201

Chapter 201 Mio Killing Intent

In the middle of the mine room that was only covered by a thin light, Mio and I immediately changed into the military uniform of Earl Timoti's territory.

The uniform of Earl Timoti's territory had a navy blue and white pattern that showed the insignia of the Earl Timoti family.

This variation of the military uniform was slightly different from the uniform that Mio had worn which was much simpler like an adjutant.

"Is it just my feeling or are our uniforms different, Mio," I said with a little laziness after wearing a military uniform that was very different from Mio's.

If we stood side by side, I looked like a military girl who had full power to give orders compared to Mio.

"Earl Timoti must have done this on purpose after seeing me once wearing a military uniform that served as the main strategist of all the troops owned by the Marquess Rommel family," I muttered a little after finishing wearing the military uniform of Earl Timoti's territory.

"I feel like it's a uniform that suits Lily-sama," said Mio who commented on the uniform I had worn.

The military uniform given by Earl Timoti was a little tighter and made my breasts feel like they were being squeezed inward. It made my chest feel uncomfortable if I made a movement that would make my breasts feel pressed.

For some reason, it made me feel uncomfortable with a military uniform that was too tight like this.

"Isn't there another size that fits my breast size?" I asked Mio who could only laugh a little after seeing my breasts that looked miserable in a tight uniform like this.

"I think Lily-sama just needs to stay still and not make any other movements that will make the military uniform tear because Lily-sama's breast size looks big in this military uniform," Mio replied with her complicated words to explain the situation that was happening to me.

I let out a small breath to agree with Mio's words.

If my body movements happened suddenly, it would make this tight military uniform tear.

Maybe this could be a task that Sirius had to do to not make me intervene when something happened in front of my eyes.

With a small command that echoed in the Soul Tame communication channel, I gave a stern warning to all the stealth slimes under Sirius' leadership.

"Attention everyone, don't let me intervene after wearing tight uniforms like this!"

"Do your job well before I feel even more disappointed with you."

With a small statement like that, I had given a warning to all the stealth slimes around me.

"They seem to be working hard after making a small mistake like that," said Mio who understood that the statement was directed at the stealth slimes around me.

Mio just smiled awkwardly after listening to my small command to the entire herd of stealth slimes on duty.

My hair which felt stiff after being cleaned by Mio's drinking water supply now got a lot of water rinse that made my hair wet and needed a gust of wind to dry it.

With Mio's skillful hands in giving hair styling, I just stood still after feeling my wet hair being dried by a towel belonging to Mio.

"I'm sorry about this, Mio. All your drinking water and clean towels have been wasted to clean the disgusting slime fluid from my hair," I said a little guilty after making some of Mio's supplies for myself to use.

"Hehe... Don't worry, I have to maintain Lily-sama's elegance and beauty," replied Mio who was still using her drinking water supply to rinse my sticky hair.

With the help of the liquid shampoo that Mio brought, I who was standing and receiving a shampoo treatment on my hair could only remain silent.

Mio with gentle movements made my hair feel a little less sticky with her towel which was now wet just to dry and shampoo my hair.

That made my mood calmer.

Mio's extraordinary skills had made the military uniform that I was wearing not get a drop of water wet. That proved that Mio's skills as my Exclusive Maid were above the professional level.

Who else could perform an emergency shampoo service using a limited drinking water supply and clean towels like this other than Mio?

I'm sure there's no Exclusive Maid as great as Mio in this world!

Mio's finger movements made my hair seem to receive a new hairstyle like a side braid tied to the back of my head. This side braid made me feel like a military girl who displayed elegance and gave orders for the movement of the troops I had.

"Lily-sama, do we need to go out of the place provided to change or use another hairstyle that Lily-sama wants?" asked Mio who seemed to have finished giving her special ability in dressing up my appearance.

When I looked at my appearance more closely from Mio small mirror, I saw a girl with light brown skin with hair braided to the side. In addition to her firm and threatening red eyes, it gave off an atmosphere of military discipline that felt heavy for the people around her.

The appearance given by Mio had made me look like a disciplined military girl who was ready to order a heavy task for the people under her authority.

"I think this is suitable, Mio," I said while looking at my reflection in Mio's small mirror.

With this appearance, I could easily blend in like a high-ranking military girl in Earl Timoti's territory.

"It's time for us to get out of this changing room and meet Earl Timoti who has packed up. They must have been waiting for us to leave this iron mine."

I slowly stepped out of the special place used by female soldiers to change clothes.

When I stepped out of the special place to change clothes, I was immediately greeted by a woman who had given me a military uniform.

"It seems too small for Lily-sama, huh?" the woman asked, looking at my breasts that looked tight in the tight military uniform.

"Haha..." I just gave a small laugh to greet the question with the answer that was already in front of her eyes.

This tight military uniform made my breasts feel a little pressed when they moved.

There are several positive sides to the military uniform that I have worn and one of them is that my breasts don't shake too much, but the negative side is that my breasts are tight in a tight uniform like this.

"Forgive us who did not know that this uniform is too small for Lily-sama. Especially in the chest area that looks tight like that. If left any further, it will make the buttons of your military uniform come off after not being able to accommodate the weight of such... healthy breasts," by turning her eyes from my breasts that were pressed by this military uniform, it gave a naughty impression of my body that had grown to be like this.

Should I do something with a military uniform that looks tight like this?

During that confusion, I unbuttoned two buttons of the military uniform and let my breasts breathe freely after getting tight pressure from the military uniform that I had worn.

"It seems that I will be rude by doing this, is there a scarf that can be used to cover my cleavage like this?" I asked while unbuttoning two buttons on this military uniform and letting my breasts breathe freely after being pressed by this tight military uniform.

Mio who was standing beside me only gave a small gaze that stole my cleavage to be glanced at by herself.

"It looks like a serious naughty girl ..." Mio muttered a little commenting on my unusual appearance.

"I understand, Lily-sama. Please give us some time to find a scarf that can be used to cover your cleavage like that. If our male soldiers see this, who knows what will happen to those who try to approach Lily-sama," said the woman in front of me with a smile that seemed like she wanted to joke with me.

"Don't worry, if someone approaches Lily-sama. Then it is my job to kill them," replied Mio with her cold and sharp gaze, her hand already holding a sharp tanto that had been taken out of its sheath.

"Uuhh... Huhu... I-I will make sure Lily-sama is not approached by our male soldiers," replied the woman in an awkward tone after receiving Mio's gaze that turned bloodthirsty after listening to the little joke from the woman's mouth.

The woman felt the cold pressure given by Mio who was now very wary of the possibility of me being approached by a male soldier, it made her unable to remove her hand from the handle of the tanto that was tightly gripped by her hand.

"Mio, please act normal. You scared her like that," I said to dampen the cold aura and killing intent that Mio was giving off.

Even though Mio looks like a calm girl, her cold eyes seem to not want to let go of the desire to kill if a male soldier dares to approach me.

The woman in front of me immediately gave her response trying to get a scarf that I could wear immediately.

Wearing a military uniform that shows off my cleavage like this, makes me look like a perverted girl who wants to seduce someone.

I understand Mio's little anger that wants to protect my body from a single inch of male stain that will damage my purity who hated men in the past.

Either the experience that has not disappeared or the discrimination given by a man through my light brown skin like this. I still can't get away from the shadow of the past of anger when I was looked down upon as trash that anyone could throw away.

Mio who is currently my Exclusive Maid understands this and is a little wary when a man tries to approach me with other intentions.

Even though her ability is still far below Noel's to disappear someone without a trace, I don't want to make Mio... inherits Noel's ability to eliminate traces of someone's body who has bad intentions towards Marquess Rommel's family members like the Black Maid unit did.

"Miiiooo..." I, who was still looking at Mio with a cold gaze and a thick killing intent, was forced to give a soft touch to her cheek.

By slowly pulling her cheek towards me, I directed a soft kiss on the lips at her. That made several military women who happened to be looking at us surprised.

The kiss I gave was an alternative way to make Mio more normal after she was filled with a cold gaze and a killing intent that was ready to be released at any time.

It would be much more effective if the kiss I gave was accompanied by a touch that stroked her hair.

Chhuuuppp...

Sluuurrrppp...

In addition to giving a soft kiss to her lips and a soft touch that stroked her hair, I also had to bite her lips to give a sense of love that made Mio return to normal.

After that little action was done, I looked into Mio's eyes gently.

"Are you calm, Mio?" I asked while watching her eyes which were now filled with shame.