

Y. Goddess 233

Chapter 233 - Cheap Provocation

The movement of the stealth slime herd for scouting look fast.

By forming a scouting and infiltration unit, they moved after receiving the order given by Aiko and Sirius.

Their high discipline amazed me and urged my horse to move even faster.

Thanks to the magical sensitivity given by Alice and Alyssa's Ritual Linked ability, I could feel the bad omen given by one of cursed sword with the amount of magical energy that made the fine hair on my neck stand on end.

"It seems like this reunion will make you a little excited, Momo," I said to Momo, who was now in my hand.

Along with the increasingly fast pace of the horse, I gave a small wink to Mio to pass this wink signal to Evelyn's group who would try to find a shortcut to launch a surprise attack.

Before we went to the source of the magical energy from one of the cursed swords, I had given special instructions to Evelyn's group as ambushers in the surprise attack.

The natural contours that were well depicted on the map Sebastian gave me made me think of a tactic that would make them retreat one way to the back.

The matter regarding the cursed sword would be my responsibility as the representative of the Goddess of Destruction and myself who had become the Monarch of Holy Destruction.

"Ehehe... I don't think about it. At this time I have become stronger than before, my Monarch."

"Even the cursed sister sword who became the favorite weapon of the Goddess of Destruction will not make me afraid when facing her."

"But it would be better if we get along without attacking each other."

With those words, I immediately glanced at Mio who was busy arranging the horse formation of Evelyn's group who were going to separate from me.

"Lily-sama, the preparations have been completed!" shouted Mio with a look in her eyes that was ready to carry out my further orders.

On the saddle of my running horse, I gave a small nod to Mio who began to separate me with Evelyn's group.

With myself acting as bait and receiving provocation from the front, I continued to spur my horse to a place that was a large river with a strong magic emits.

As I was spurring my horse to run closer to the river, I heard a report given by Aiko and Sirius.

[ Supreme Commander, it seems like our guests here have quite a lot more numbers than the small group led by that noble girl. ]

The report given by Aiko echoed inside my head through the Soul Tame communication channel.

[ Not only are their numbers large, but they are carrying a stockpile of weapons that are terrifying enough to pollute the river with suspicious liquids that they are pouring into the river. ]

The report given this time came from Sirius and it already made me feel a bad feeling about something they were pouring.

"They poured something into the river, can you feel what they poured, Zoe?" I asked Zoe who was currently on my hair.

"It seems like it's a poison that will poison the people around the river, Master Lily. But it was neutralized by my magic which currently still dominates this river. They are really stupid when they question the authority I have in a river like this, Hahaha!! HAHAHA!!" Zoe replied like an evil butterfly spirit when giving her answer.

"By the way, is the river that passes through Earl Timoti's territory, okay?" I asked Zoe while looking at the small map Sebastian gave me.

Just like Earl Timoti's territory which is flowed by a river that comes from a branch of this large river, our territory is also flowed by river water that comes from the source of the same branch of the river.

If what they poured starts to drift into Marquess Rommel's territory, it will be enough for me to declare war on the heretical sect that is causing such damage.

"Hmm? Causing this kind of damage?" I muttered a little, seemingly realizing one of the important points of the people who worship the Goddess of Destruction.

Oh my Goddess, is one of the rituals of worship the Goddess of Destruction is create some nature damage in this world?

Like a small knowledge that spread to all other knowledge, I seemed to understand what this heretical sect that worships the Goddess of Destruction was doing.

[ Eh? Didn't Lily-chan already get the answer? ]

As usual, the answer given by my Goddess felt useless.

[ Lily-chan, I'm not joking right now! ]

[ What Lily-chan is thinking is the correct answer! ]

[ One form of worship carried out to worship the Goddess of Destruction is to cause damage by praising the name of the Goddess of Destruction while doing so. ]

"It sounds stupid but it can't be helped, it suits them very well," I replied with a blunt statement to the heretical sect that praised the Goddess of Destruction.

[ Lily-chan... is it okay for you to say such words while you are the Monarch of Holy Destruction who was directly appointed by the Goddess of Destruction? ]

"It doesn't matter, because at this time I will destroy these fools to get one step closer to the Goddess of Destruction..." I said while stopping my words before completing my sentence.

"... In the realm of the dead!" I continued my words while bringing out my magic energy that came from the blessing given by the Goddess of Destruction.

Swiisshh...

Swiiinnngg...

"My Monarch..." along with a overflowing of my magical energy that began to slowly come out of my body, I felt a strong desire to destroy something with magical energy that came from the Goddess of Destruction.

The speed of my horse that was running fast was suddenly blocked by a blockade of tree trunks and made me have to do something to clear the tree trunks that were blocking my path.

My hand immediately grabbed the handle of Momo's Odachi and pulled it until my overflowing magical energy resonated with Momo's cursed Odachi.

Slasshhh...

Baaanngg!!

By pulling the handle of Momo's cursed Odachi, I launched a magical slash attack that went towards the blockade of tree trunks that were blocking my horse's speed.

Baaamm!!

The rumble of the attack I gave was heard loudly after the blockade in front of me was destroyed and created a new path that came from the magical attack that came from Momo's cursed Odachi slash.

Seeing the destructive power given by Momo, I felt that their magical energy overflow began to waver as if preparing for my arrival who was welcoming their provocation in the river flow that had been planted with Zoe magic circle at the bottom of the river flow.

When I was at the source of the river flow where Zoe had planted her curse magic chant, I was immediately greeted by a heretical sect who were looking towards my arrival.

Right in front of my eyes, I could see them pouring something as reported by Aiko and Sirius.

Plokkk...

Plookkk...

A clapping sound immediately greeted me because my position was currently alone and only equipped with a cursed Odachi which was currently emitting the aura of a cursed weapon.

"Oh, my, this is a surprise. Who would have thought that the main star who was hindering our plan was someone who was currently the target of our next attack."

A voice that echoed around me seemed to give a light intimidation that came from the illusion magic trick that looked like a small change in front of my eyes.

My eyes that understood this kind of trivial illusion immediately fell on someone who was hiding behind the crowd of heretical sects. Like a coward who didn't want to show himself, I had to take the trouble to approach him.

I immediately got off my horse's saddle and gave his head a light touch to keep him close to me.

Pat...

Pat...

By giving a light stroking of my horse's head, I heard a reply from him that seemed excited.

"NYIIIEEGHH!!" my horse yelped, seeming to like intense situations like this.

When I had gotten off my horse's saddle and walked towards someone who was launching an illusion magic attack on me, my footsteps were blocked by someone who looked ordinary.

"Haaahhh..." I took a deep breath as if thinking that this would be too much work and had to be ended immediately.

"I don't know what you're doing, at least don't cause damage to Marquess Rommel or Earl Timoti's territory. You guys are so cruel to make these two friends who are getting along suffer from each other," I said with light words before continuing my steps to get closer.

Tapp...

Tapp...

Sriingg...

As my footsteps walked closer to them, I could feel the aura of intimidation and thick killing intent from them. Their swords that had come out of their sheaths seemed to give a threat of violence if I stepped closer.

Tapp...

Tapp...

My footsteps became closer to the dangerous area that was contaminated by their intimidating aura and killing intent. My current target was someone who was launching an illusion magic attack at me.

The illusion magic attack that he did was an illusion magic attack that made me unable to see clearly and fall into the abyss of darkness like what happened to the Golden King Bear whose body was pierced by the cursed sword.

"Hey, I'm sure you have something more interesting than your cheap illusion magic attack like this, right?" while saying that, I immediately used Sakura Vanish and Sakura Dash to close the distance between us.

Swiisshh...

Thanks to my disappearing and suddenly appearing in front of him, I showed a scary smile that surprised him.

On a scorching afternoon like this, I had broken through the barrier and distance between us without getting any resistance from him.

"Finally found you," I said while giving him a scary smile.

Sllaasshhh!!

Swiinngg!!

When my body approached someone who was giving me an illusion magic attack, a flash of a sharp sword blade had been directed at me. Using Momo's strong and hard cursed Odachi sheath, I blocked their attacks while giving a scary smile to someone in front of me.

Paanngg!!

Daaanngg!!

Priinngg!!

The sound of their swords clashing with Momo's cursed Odachi sheath had caused the smile I gave to someone in front of me to become even more terrifying.

I vaguely saw the reflection of my face smiling horribly from the fast-flowing river that was starting to turn black.

The smile I was showing right now was the smile of someone who looked annoyed and was holding back from killing someone who was currently in front of me.

"Hiiiieekk!!" I could hear his voice screaming after making eye contact with me.

Just from the sound of his screams, I could hear that he was a disgusting man who had been abandoned by this world.

I am not a woman who is kind enough to men who have problematic life like this.

When they are doing something that is against the law and damaging something related to nature itself. Then it has become my duty as a Saintess to guide them to the realm of death.

This is very unfortunate because at this time they have to face someone who has been directly appointed by the Goddess of Destruction that they worship.

It seems that I have to start seriously facing this problem.