

Y. Goddess 234

Chapter 234 - Cheap Provocation With Charm Topping

Slash!!

Slash!!

Bangg!!

A warm welcome in the form of a sword slash attack has been directed at my body. Using a light-dodging movement and not moving too much, I only turned my body to avoid the diagonal attack heading towards me.

Swiisshh...

Swiipp...

The steps that did not take too many steps immediately avoided the direction of the sword attack aimed at me. Among the amateur sword attacks, I could see someone who seemed to be observing my movements.

In my slow-moving vision, I could see the aura of a cursed sword shown by someone with a face covered by a black robe all over their body.

Slaamm!!

Baamm!!

Several sword attacks heading towards me had turned into spear thrust attacks that shot towards my body quickly. The sharp spearhead headed towards me along with the sword slash attack.

Swiipp...

My hand immediately grabbed one of the arms of the heretical sect and moved it to block the spear attack that was flying toward my body.

Tiinng!!

The parry given by one of the heretical sects had destroyed their defenses until my view that saw opportunity immediately took action to provide countermeasures.

My hand immediately moved horizontal and vertical attacks alternately.

Swiiissh...

Swiinngg!!

My attack that was still playing with them only used the cursed Odachi sheath. The blunt part gave a sound of impact that made me tremble with satisfaction after the blunt object hit their bodies.

"Huuukk!!" in my slow-moving eyes, I could see the strange facial expression of someone who had just received a blunt attack from the cursed Odachi sheath.

My body immediately turned to give another direction of attack until the people who were surrounding me felt the blunt impact given by the cursed Odachi sheath.

Booonkk!!

Boonkk!!

The vibrating handle of the cursed Odachi made me feel troubled after feeling the shock vibration that almost made me lose my direction of attack.

The vibration given by the cursed Odachi handle came from parry stance of someone who had been watching my previous fight.

In the attack that was parried by them, we began to separate ourselves to create a distance for the attack.

When our distance was far apart, the mysterious person began to pull off something from behind black robe.

"Kukuku... I didn't expect to meet a suitable opponent for me on a boring expedition like this," she said with her hand movements slowly pulling the hood that covered her face.

When her face was visible, I could see a girl covered wound scratches on her face. The wound that sliced one of her eyes showed that she was a veteran fighter who had experience on the battlefield.

The unusual wound made me smile as if I had found a suitable opponent to test Momo's true abilities.

"Well, I'm in the same position as you. I'm tired of fighting unentertaining little guys like them," I said, returning her words with a small insult.

Along with that statement, I heard Aiko's whisper reports that their infiltration into this battle was complete.

At this time, Aiko and Evelyn's group were preparing to launch a surprise attack with a hand signal given by me.

[Supreme Commander, we are in a position to launch a surprise attack and the noble girl's group is on a one-way ambush route.]

"Maintain your current position, Aiko. Something serious is going to happen by the troublesome woman in front of me. I think I'll test her strength first before making a move. Convey this message to Mio and Evelyn," through my small whisper and my gaze covered by the shadow of my military cap. I began to give off an attitude as if I wanted to fight her on duel.

"Hey, how about we have an honorable duel that will let us face each other without any distractions like this?" I asked the mysterious woman whose face was covered in sword scars.

The mysterious woman looked around and gave me a smug smile.

"Hmm? Are you afraid of our numbers, poor young lady?" she replied while showing off the fighting power of this heretical sect that was superior in numbers.

At a glance, I could estimate their numbers to be around a hundred, but the exact number was still unknown.

"As I said before, I'm feeling lazy to fight inexperienced rats and want duel. Don't you feel the same way when you're want involved in a fight that risks life and death?" I replied with a light provocation that made the mysterious woman's facial expression frown.

Seeing the expression she gave, it seemed like I had found the right solution to use the cheap provocation that I was going to give her.

"Ahem! How about we just duel? Even if you lose to me, then I'll just give you a light interrogation like fun and relaxing questions?"

Swiiisngg!!

When I gave options like that, I suddenly got a surprise attack from one of the followers of the cult in the form of a throwing knife attack. Unlike the technique used by Mio, this throwing knife attack felt amateurish and the direction of the blade could be predicted.

Swiinnngg!!

I was also able to avoid the direction of her attack easily because the focus of the attack was only my head. So I just moved my head left and right like I was doing a light warm-up for the fight.

"Oh! Nice attack, it makes me stretch my neck muscles easily before the fight," I said to lightly provoke someone who had thrown a knife at me.

"Your knife throwing isn't too bad, but at least you should be able to throw the knife more elegantly. For example, in this way..." Along with my words, I immediately gave a small code to Aiko to convey a small message to Mio to throw her knife from a distance.

"Paaamm!!" I said while giving a elegant gesture like throwing a knife.

Swiiisshh...

Sttaabb!!

After my words were finished, it seemed that Mio managed to adjust my hand movements and my words in her knife throw which hit the head of one of the cult members.

Braaggg...

His head which had been stuck by the throwing knife suddenly fell and died on the spot.

"Ooopss... I think I did something... unintentionally?" I said in an innocent tone as if I didn't know anything.

"Is this a good sign given to me by the Goddess? Hmm..." With my innocent attitude to provoke them, I again made a gesture to attack using throwing knives like before.

"Paaamm!!" I screamed a little along with the knife thrown by Mio that hit one of the heads of the other cult members.

Swiiisshh...

Sttaabb!!

Buuuhhh...

"Oh! It seems like it wasn't just a coincidence. What if I did all this and made all the members of this cult die with throwing knives stuck in their heads?" The provocation that I gave continued until I snapped my fingers to give a surprise attack that had been prepared by Sirius.

[Supreme Commander, we have prepared a silent magic spell that is ready to be used at any time!]

Snap...

Along with the sound of my finger snap, a magic attack in the form of a water cut occurred and beheaded several heads that were currently around me.

Swiingg...

Sllasshh!!

Swiinngg...

Sllaasshh!!

The path of attack carried out by the stealth slime herd was so thin, that make the water-cut magic they cast almost invisible.

Even in my slow-motion vision, I could only see a few drops of water-cut attacks forming the water-cut magic attack.

The unusual magic attack had beheaded several of the people who had attacked me earlier.

Craasshhh...

Pllaasshh...

At this moment, the melodious sound of severed heads and blood spurting from their necks became a soft melody along with the sound of the rushing river current flowing behind them.

Buuggg...

Duuuggg...

Several bodies of the dead cult members fell onto the river and drifted like logs floating on the water.

"Um, you don't want to collect your dead people who are drifting down the river like that?" I asked after giving a surprise attack that made the mysterious woman look annoyed at me.

"They weren't very useful in their lives, why should I collect people who have become trash like that?" she replied while taking out a sword from under her robe.

The answer I heard was a cold one that considered them as just disposable tools.

Unlike myself who was cold because of the demands of the role play forced by my Goddess, I was not so cold as to see them as disposable pawns.

At least they would be useful if they not caused pollution from the corpses that were washed up in the river. It would be a troublesome job but fortunately, this wasn't Marquess Rommel's territory. I would make Evelyn take responsibility for this when it over.

Wiihrrlll...

When the mysterious woman took out her sword from under her robe, I could feel the same magical energy vibrations as the Goddess of Destruction.

"Ah, I get it now. You are one of the cursed sword wielders, huh?" I said in a relaxed tone while giving a small signal with my hand to Aiko and Sirius to clean up the people around me.

Swiisshh...

Clllassshh...

Buuggg...

While giving a small signal to Mio and Evelyn to get ready to block the cult people who escaped from this place, I started to prepare to face someone more dangerous than the other cult members.

Momo immediately reacted when she saw one of her cursed sword sisters.

"Oh, my, I didn't expect to meet one of my fellow cursed swords in a place like this," Momo's words began to echo around me.

Wiiirrhlll...

Along with the echoing sound, I could feel the cursed Odachi that was still covered by the cursed Odachi sheath emitting a black magic aura that was closely related to the magic power of the Goddess of Destruction.

"My sister? Is that you?" the small echoes around me seemed to be talking to each other.

As if showing off cursed weapons to each other, I began to take Momo out of her cursed Odachi sheath.

Swiingg...

When the sharp blade of the red-black Odachi emitted a dense aura of magic energy, I could feel the overflow of destructive magic energy possessed by Momo.

Along with the changes in my body that followed the changes in the shape of Momo's Odachi which was heavier and scarier, I looked like an evil woman who suddenly wore a magic armor that was equal to the color of the cursed Odachi.

My vision also turned black and white after this sudden change occurred.

"Um, Momo, can you explain what happen right now?" I asked in a whisper to Momo who began to channel some of her magic to me.

Through the distribution of magic given by Momo, I could feel the change in my body shape which seemed to be wearing a magic armor.

My black military uniform and military cap also disappeared as if swallowed by Momo's magic flow.

Right now, it seemed like I was trapped inside the magic armor given by Momo, and made the battlefield tense to the point of making my enemies sink into fear.
