

Y. Goddess 240

Chapter 240 - Re-educating The Stupid One?

Behind the scorching and burning sunlight, I saw Jean accompanying the remaining members of the heretical sect who were currently within the range of her terrifying smile.

The smile Jean gave indicated their relationship had separated and had different interests.

At this time, Jean acted as someone who was carrying out my orders as a Monarch of Holy Destruction, who she was worshipping while carrying out the orders I gave.

"Um, Momo, are you sure that not all heretical sects that worship the Goddess of Destruction are not as strange as this?" I asked Momo to make sure of one thing.

I questioned this because the sight before my eyes contradicted Momo's previous statement. Besides that, I also asked the same question to Zoe.

"Zoe, do you think this is a normal thing to do for someone who has just received forgiveness and purification of sins from the Goddess?" I asked Zoe who was starting to focus on this one important thing.

"Master, you never stop making me think hard after making me curious about the spirit you summoned a long time ago, huh?" while giving a reply that looked annoyed and sulky, Zoe started flapping her butterfly wings and started to transform into her human form.

Swwiirrll...

Zoe showing her human form with light brown skin and wearing a thin veil covering her head, that made Zoe look like a naughty girl with an appearance similar to mine.

"Huuukk!! Uuuukk!!" by doing a little stretch on her body, Zoe started to relax her arms by swinging them to the right and left.

"Huuupp!! Huupp!!" while doing a light stretch on her human form, Zoe started to glance at Momo who was currently in my hand.

"Hey, don't you want to use your human form to relax together with my Master?" said Zoe while directing her red gaze toward Momo.

"..." I watched the interaction between Zoe and Momo who seemed to have become close without me knowing.

Brrrtt...

The cursed Odachi sheath that I was holding suddenly vibrated and changed its form to become a young woman who looked coquettish.

Swiirrl...

"Aahh!! I'm not used to this kind of human body shape."

When the cursed Odachi sheath that I was holding vibrated and released a large surge of magical energy, I saw Momo change from cursed Odachi mode to a woman who suddenly appeared beside me.

The body shape of the woman used by Momo looks like a beautiful and tease woman, the impression given to her is like a woman who is naughty and likes to involve other people in the mischief she does.

Her red eyes and bold purple hair showed a woman's form that was far different from her body shape when she was a cursed Odachi. Especially with the black dress that gave off a mischief atmosphere.

"Huuuukkk..." Following what Zoe did, Momo immediately stretched her body to do a light warm-up.

Seeing the cursed Odachi and the spirit that can bring disaster getting along with each other, I could feel something had happened between them to become this close.

"Hmm... not bad as a cursed weapon," commented Zoe who stared at Momo's body shape in her female form, especially with the direction of her gaze directed at Momo's breasts.

"What do you mean by that," replied Momo while giving Zoe a cold stare, she also stared at Zoe's breasts which were the same size as mine.

"..." In a light interaction like this, I could only remain silent and not say much in observing their interaction.

"This is very different from what I imagined," I muttered a little after seeing the interaction between Momo and Zoe which went normally without any conflict.

"Hmm? So, what did my Master imagine?" hearing my little mutter, Zoe immediately approached me and hugged my arm like she was sticking to me.

"I thought you two would get to know each other awkwardly," I replied while watching Zoe's hand which began to hug my arm tightly.

"We might look awkward if Master isn't here, don't you think so, Momo?" Using a casual tone of address, Zoe showed her close relationship with Momo right in front of my eyes.

"Yes, there must be awkwardness after we lost the topic of conversation and only heard the wind blowing," Momo replied, starting to imitate Zoe's movements as she hugged my arm tightly.

Squuiisshh...

When my right and left arms were hugged by the two of them, I almost got caught in an awkward situation before Jean came over to me.

Like a shepherd girl leading lost sheep, Jean began to move her hand that was holding the cursed rapier to show a path of truth that was in front of her eyes.

Zoe and Momo immediately released their tight hug on my arm after seeing Jean approaching while leading the remaining surviving members of the cult.

[ Supreme Commander, should we stop the silent magic attack after that woman led them to you? ]

"Yes, stop the silent magic attack for a while and assist the group in trouble."

[ As you wish, Supreme Commander! ]

While waiting for the lost sheep that Jean had gathered in front of me, I immediately gave a small nod to Momo and Zoe to return to their original forms.

Zoe began to transform into a butterfly spirit and flew to perch on my hair as a hairpin while Momo began to become a cursed Odachi that gave off an overwhelming magical energy pressure.

"Speed up your steps! You idiots!" shouted Jean while threatening with magical energy pressure given by her cursed rapier.

Seeing Jean's attitude and behavior, I could only smile wryly and laugh a little.

"Hahaha... This looks unique and different from what happened before," I said in commenting on Jean's actions.

My eyes couldn't take my eyes off Jean's innocent attitude and behavior as she escorted the remaining members of the cult with her cute and angry face.

"Don't smile at me like an idiot!"

"Hurry up and walk towards the Monarch of Holy Destruction, idiot!"

"Don't make me angry with your stupidity that knows no limits like this!"

I calmly watched a beautiful young girl trying to intimidate them with her terrifying smile. Although the smile looked scary, it did not scare the remaining members of the cult. Instead, they smiled happily when they saw Jean who was angry with cute face.

"What am I looking at?" I grumbled a little after seeing the behavior of the remaining members of the cult who were still alive.

With the silent magic attacks that had stopped, it made their lives safer without receiving surprise attacks from the stealth slime herd.

While waiting for Jean to line up the remaining members of the cult, I began to turn my gaze to the fast-flowing river that had become clear. Unlike the dangerous river filled with poison, now the water of this fast-flowing river flows as clear as before.

In the midst of this healthy river, I can feel the freshness of the cold water under the scorching heat of the sun like this.

While I was watching the fast-flowing river, I was surprised by the appearance of Aiko who emerged from it.

Ploopp...

"Supreme Commander!" Aiko exclaimed in a loud tone.

Pyuurr...

Pluuppp...

The military uniform worn by Aiko looked wet after she walked out of the fast-flowing river.

"..." I couldn't give any comments about Aiko hiding inside the fast-flowing river like this. As a well-structured surprise attack, this was an extraordinary effort that deserved my praise.

By raising my thumb as a sign of good work for Aiko, I gave a compliment that made Aiko smile with pride.

"Good job, Aiko," I said in a flat tone while raising my thumb to her.

After Aiko emerged from the fast-flowing river, I also began to see other herds of stealth slimes emerging from it.

"..." Just by seeing such a scene, I had to suppress my surprise at their extraordinary development like this. Even my detection ability was unable to feel the presence of those who hiding inside the fast-flowing river.

"You guys seem to be starting to become professional in utilizing the battlefield," I said while glancing away and seeing one by one the stealth slime herd drying their wet military uniforms.

"Hehe... we have become professional in adjusting the direction of attack command by our Supreme Commander!" Aiko exclaimed proudly.

"Yes, I'm glad you've become professional but don't forget your duty to help Evelyn and Mio's group who are having trouble taking care of the escaped rats," I replied while turning my gaze away from Aiko.

"About that, it seems like Sirius has done a good job. The only reports I received were complaints about corpses piling up along to the main road that merchant carriages often pass by."

Hearing Aiko's report, I could feel relieved about this. Just think of this incident as an additional experience in the military training that Evelyn's group was undergoing and being supervised directly by Mio.

I wanted to be protective but that would look like I was spoiling them.

The decision I gave them to ambush the fleeing rats seemed to be good choices.

The rats that were still part of the cult members in front of me right now didn't seem as lucky as those who surrendered before me right now.

"Um, Supreme Commander, what are you going to do with the remnants of the cult members?" Aiko asked curiously.

"I can't give you a detailed explanation because it has to do with my status as the Monarch of Holy Destruction."

"A-Aahh... I understand, Supreme Commander."

Aiko's curiosity had to be suppressed for a while after I tried to keep my future plans a secret.

If I can express my honest feelings to Aiko, I have absolutely no plans for this.

All I'm doing right now is waiting for Jean who is cutely angry and giving a little small order that will make her move independently.

To do that, it seems like I have to do the same intimidation as Jean did.

"Aiko... please help me," I said to Aiko with a smirk.

"With pleasure, my Supreme Commander."

Along with the answer given by Aiko, I started walking towards Jean and maintained my creepy grinning smile.

Aiko who was walking beside me also gave her creepy grinning smile. Along with the signal from my footsteps, a magical energy began to overflow from my body and Aiko.

Swiisshh...

Baasshh!!

This great pressure of magical energy, made Jean and the remaining members of the cult immediately look at me.

Aiko and I released magical energy that intimidated the remaining members of the cult until Jean knelt while lowering her head.

"My Monarch, sorry to keep you waiting and getting upset like this, they are a little difficult to control because they are stupid," Jean said respectfully.

"Then... this is your next task. Please re-educate them," I said while giving orders to Jean.

"Yes, my Monarch."

With that short answer, I could see another smile on Jean's beautiful face who looked enthusiastic in re-educating the remaining members of the cult who were still surviving with full of screams.