

Y. Goddess 41

Chapter 41: Chapter 1 - Jealous of Twin Step-Sisters

A tough day has passed.

After a long day, my night was filled with answering endless questions from my twin step-sisters. Their questions kept me awake until morning—the tiredness from the questions paid off with my deep sleep.

The questions from my twin step-sisters felt a little strange. They questioned my relationship with Ciel and Sia. It was hard to answer their little questions because they seemed worried about something I didn't know.

Moreover, their questions continued after breakfast was over, continued until lunch, and ended with dinner while always asking about my relationship with Ciel and Sia.

They even broke into my room at night and asked to sleep together. As far as I understand, they wanted to experience what Ciel and Sia had experienced.

Sometimes, my twin step-sisters are hard to understand and I am still trying to understand their unique nature and character. I hope we can become close after this incident.

Currently, Alice and Alyssa are still asleep. Unlike me who is used to waking up in the morning, they seem to have a little difficulty waking up in the morning. I didn't want to wake up their precious sleep time. So, I let them sleep a little longer and waited for their personal Maid to come wake them up.

Now, I can relax for a moment by looking at the mirror on my dressing table and watching the little mischief that my Goddess is doing.

Right behind me, a pile of clothes that occupied my wardrobe slowly flew and burned by golden flames. The golden flames were a special magic created by the intervention of the Goddess. A holy fire that did not emit heat, smoke, and residue from burning. My clothes disappeared without a trace after being devoured by the flames and were replaced by clothes given by the Goddess.

Um.. why did this happen?

It might be too long if I explain in detail. But, I can summarize it into a simple sentence.

I was dragged into a "Cosplay Showcase" event hosted by the Goddess.

This all happened after the Queen of the Kingdom and the "trash" were preparing to return to their cages which is royale palace. The Chocolate parcel that I had prepared for Ciel and Sia caught their attention and demanded the same rights as the Queen who was became my pet.

Since the chocolate parcel was an item that required Yurification Points to buy, I was very reluctant to give that sweet pleasure in their mouths.

So, I followed the Goddess's little suggestion to give them a strange outfit called "Wilhelmshaven Maritime High School Uniform" with the lure of "Cosplay" that came out of the Goddess's mouth.

Thanks to the updated Yurification System, several items can be purchased using Yurification Points. To get Yurification Points, there are special requirements that need to be met and it is not much different from before. Just by making physical contact with other women who have a Ritual Linked relationship, I can easily get Yurification Points.

Yeah... Uhm.. I think 721,000 Yurification Points is too much to spend on the Yurification Store but it is worth it for the results in the form of these high-quality clothes.

Why did my Yurification Points get this much?

Did I miss out on something as much as physical contact with Mio or something happen while I asleep?

Umm.. forget it. Mio's affection for me is very big.

Thank you very much for loving me, Mio.

The items sold by the Yurification Store are of extraordinary quality. The Goddess who always teases me pampers me through inter-world goods that can be accessed using the Yurification Store. The items are a little strange in shape but not much different from those in this world.

Uh... I feel a little guilty if I don't express my gratitude to her. So, I slightly followed her small request to participate in the "Cosplay Showcase" event held by the Goddess directly.

The Goddess only told me to sit nicely in front of the dressing table mirror and let her power change my body appearance such as clothes, hairstyle, and personality that have been determined by the Goddess. For the last part, I have to do "Role Play" or character acting according to the Goddess's instructions.

The clothes in my closet are now burned without ashes. Before the Goddess burned all my clothes, she had a few harsh words for Marquess Rommel. The Goddess complained about the contents of my wardrobe that had been left behind by time and put them in her private museum.

I hadn't thought about my taste in clothes all this time. The Goddess gave me a little advice by saying "Behind a beautiful body lies a cute outfit, Lily-chan should stay cute and elegant at the same time!"

Once again, I heard the words of the Goddess that were hard to understand.

The clothes I was wearing right now looked like a military uniform with a dominant black color that was fashionable and elegant. The shape looked harmonious with my brown skin color and I liked the style of the clothes that looked very unique.

With the help of the Goddess, the clothes moved along my body and adjusted their size to fit my body proportions.

As the clothes adjusted their size to my body, it felt like it blended into every shape of my body. Besides, the stats engraved in the seams gave it an advantage over regular clothes.

Wait, isn't this more like clothes coated with protective magic than regular clothes?

Wilhelmshaven Maritime High School Uniform

Description:

A female military school uniform was used by the Wilhelmshaven Maritime School. Use a basic black jacket, white shirt, long black tie, and black skirt. On the left chest of the jacket, there is the Wilhelmshaven school logo and a temporary military rank on some straps. Other equipment such as shoes, long socks, and gloves are dominated by black.

All items from the Yurification Store have special effects such as being indestructible, odorless, and adjusting to the user's body shape.

Umm.. there are too many strange statuses that I don't know yet and why are these statuses filled to the brim inside this outfit?

I-It doesn't look strange, right?

My body feels like it feels strange magical energy overflowing from every stitch of this outfit.

In addition to the clothes I'm wearing, my hairstyle has also been completely changed by the Goddess. At least, there are two hair ribbons decorating my hair. Seeing this change, it feels like I've become a different little girl than before.

[ Umu! This French Braid hairstyle is indeed suitable for military clothing! ]

[ Lily-chan, try standing up and turning around in front of the mirror. ]

Following the Goddess's words, I got down from my dressing table chair and my gaze shifted to the long mirror next to my dressing table. The shape of the mirror that extended upwards showed my body shape that had completely changed.

A girl with bright brown skin wearing black military clothing, her sharp red gaze, and her bold hairstyle made me shudder as if I were seeing another me.

I observed myself a little in front of the mirror.

"This outfit is not bad either and—"

Toook!! Toook!!

"Lily-sama.."

"Hyaaa!" the knock on the door surprised me a little and spontaneously looked at the entrance to my room.

"Alice-sama, are you awake?"

"Alyssa-sama, are you awake?"

It seemed that Mio and my twin step-sisters' maids had arrived.

"Excuse me, Lily-sama.. I'll open the door.." Mio said from behind the door and slowly opened the entrance to my room.

Kreeek!!

"..."

"..."

"..."

After the door to my room opened wide, Mio and my twin stepsister's personal maids stood still seeing my appearance.

Such a surprised reaction...

It was the same reaction the day before. Because the souvenir for the Queen of the Aurora Kingdom was a little different from usual, she asked how to wear a school uniform that came from the Yurification Store. So, I put it on and found the gazes of the people around me frozen while holding their nostrils that were slowly bleeding.

"Good morning, Lily-sama.. as usual... it's very charming.." said Mio while smiling at me and holding back the blood that was starting to leak out of her nostrils.

"Good morning, Mio," I replied quickly while turning my body to show off the clothes I was wearing.

"Umm... Lily-sama. Is Lily-sama going to wear those clothes all day?" asked Mio curiously.

"I guess so. Is it too ugly for me?"

"N-No, it suits Lily-sama very well, it's just.." Mio glanced at my twin stepsister's maids standing beside her.

Unlike Mio who was calm, my twin stepsister's personal maids' bodies trembled after seeing my appearance.

Uhh.. is this appearance that bad in their eyes?

"You two, please don't be charmed by my Master's beauty and cuteness. Don't you have a Master to serve too? Where is your professionalism as personal Maids?" Mio said, mocking their loyalty.

"M-Mio, how can you not be charmed by this beauty and cuteness?" one of my stepsister's Maids protested.

"That's right, it's impossible to resist her cuteness. Wait! Your nose is bleeding too, Mio!" said my other stepsister's personal Maid.

I briefly heard a small whisper between Mio and my twin stepsister's personal Maids.

It seemed like my appearance was too strange in their eyes and caused a small, meaningless argument.
