

The Yun Family's Ninth Child is an Imp! Chapter 537

Yun Chujiu smiled faintly. "You don't believe me? For someone as heartless as you, the heavens will not sit idly by. Haven't you heard of that saying? It's not that there's no retribution. When the time comes, good and evil will be recompensed in the end! Today is a good day for justice. The heavens will immediately take you in!"

Following Yun Chujiu's words, everyone realized that the sky was gradually turning dark. Although it was already dusk, it was not supposed to be that dark yet.

Everyone looked up and saw a thick and heavy dark cloud slowly drifting over!

The dark cloud's heart was on the verge of collapse. It was bitter. Why did it draw the losing lot again? It did not want to deal with this scourge, and did not want to be scolded by her!

Everyone was shocked. Could it really be the heavenly punishment?! Was this dark cloud going to drop the heavenly thunder?!

The leader of the League of Assassins frowned, and then sneered, "Little girl, don't be so mystifying! It's just a coincidence! I've never believed in heavenly punishment. What's so strange about this cloud?! It's just a rain cloud!"

Yun Chujiu shouted at the dark clouds in the sky, "Little Dark Cloud, that old bastard said that you don't know shit except for the rain. Strike him! As long as you strike him, I won't scold you anymore!"

The man laughed and staggered back, "Little girl, you're really interesting. Who do you think you are? You even ordered the clouds to hit me. What a whimsical idea! Are you scared to death by me? Besides, this piece of cloud in the sky doesn't even look thick, and you think it can even strike lightning? What a joke!"

The dark cloud in the sky was furious!

'Damn it!

'It's fine if that little troublemaker Yun Chujiu scolded me since I can't strike her to death!

'You old bastard, you actually dare to look down on me! I'll strike you to death!'

Rumble! Rumble!

Several purple lightning bolts descended from the sky, and they were all aimed at the leader of the League of Assassins!

The man did not even have time to react! Although the first lightning bolt was blocked by the spiritual energy shield formed by his defensive spirit tool, the dark clouds in the sky released nine lightning bolts in a row to vent his anger! Even if one had reached the ninth level of the Spirit Emperor realm, he might not be able to withstand nine lightning bolts, what was more the leader!

The man was immediately turned into ashes! Only a storage ring was left, which Yun Chujiu hurriedly put it away.

Those assassins were scared silly! Some of the cowards were already kneeling on the ground, kowtowing and begging for mercy.

Yun Chujiu looked at them with a cold smile. "Do any of you still want to taste the taste of lightning? If you don't want to, you can restrain the spiritual power of the other party in pairs, then tie them up with belts. I'll tie the last one up!"

A trace of doubt flashed in the eyes of a few assassins. The leader being struck just now might have been an accident. Since the leader was dead, it was a good opportunity for them to rise to the top. How could they be manipulated by this stinky little girl?

Therefore, the few of them looked at each other and suddenly pounced on Yun Chujiu. Yun Chujiu waved her hand and shot out several bolts of lightning. Then, she shouted at the dark clouds in the sky, "Little Dark Cloud, strike them! Strike them hard! If you strike them well, I won't mock you anymore!"

The dark clouds in the sky thought for a moment. 'F*ck! Since I've already broken my precepts today, why not just strike them to my heart's content? I would have a greater sense of achievement! If I was reprimanded... Hmm... I'll say that my eyesight has not been good recently and that I missed!'

Boom! Boom!

Those unlucky fellows were instantly struck into ashes!

The remaining assassins were trembling like chaff! Oh My God! This little girl was actually able to command lightning to strike people, it was really too horrifying!
